Mr. Jeff Ruch
Public Employees for Environmental Responsibility
962 Wayne Avenue, Suite 610
Silver Spring, MD 20910

Dear Mr. Ruch:

This correspondence is in regard to your Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request dated November 5, 2021 in which you seek six separately enumerated categories of records related to the Hunters Point Naval Shipyard ("HPNS") located in San Francisco, California.

Your request was received in this office on November 8, 2021 and assigned file number DON-NAVY-2022-001354. Please cite this number in any future communications with our office regarding this request. Your requests seeks the following:

- 1. Records reflecting the referenced strontium-90 sampling results, including the specific levels of strontium-90 detected and the precise location of each sample;*
- 2. The Parcel G strontium-90 sampling plan and methodology used to take those existing measurements, and the sampling plan and methodology being employed for the "updated method" designed for "more precise and certain results";*
- 3. Documents justifying the Navy's decision that re-analysis of these samples was appropriate and/or why the reported results lacked precision or certainty;*
- 4. Records describing the "updated method" of analyzing these samples and detailing why this method would yield "more precise and certain results."*
- 5. All communications with "regulatory agencies" regarding strontium-90 sampling, including communications concerning the need for and approval of updated methods for analyzing these soil samples;*
- 6. Documents describing all possible sources of strontium-90 on parcel G.*

A letter dated December 2, 2021 provided a final determination on your FOIA request. A search for responsive records has been completed and approximately 834 potentially responsive records have been located. This letter provides the first of multiple phases of release. Additional records will be released to you in phases as documents are determined to be responsive to your request. The nature of this particular FOIA request requires a multi-step search and review process for a reasonable search of records. For requests with broad scopes, like this one, we first search document repositories using keywords. The results of this search yields “potentially responsive documents.” Some or many of these initial results are found to be not responsive during the subsequent “review” step. Accordingly, broad requests like this can yield a large difference between “potentially responsive records” and “responsive records” which can also lead to longer release timeframes.

Today’s interim release addresses 5 potentially responsive records. Of the potentially responsive records addressed in this interim release,

- 2 records were duplicates;
- 1 records are partially withheld under FOIA Exemption 4; with the remainder of the record released to you;
- 2 remaining record is released to you in full.

The instances of exempt information have been redacted.

FOIA Exemption 4 [5 U.S.C. § 552(b)(4)] exempts from disclosure “trade secrets and commercial or financial information obtained from a person [that is] privileged or confidential.” The trade secrets associated with this exemption relates to business phone, conference call numbers, vehicle information and standard operating procedures which belong to our contractors and could cause competitive harm if released.

Your FOIA request also included a request that all fees be waived. We have evaluated the fee waiver request and have determined that this request is eligible for a waiver.

You have the right to an appeal. It must be received (i.e., post-marked if by mail or submitted if by FOIAonline) within 90 calendar days from the date of this letter. Please provide the following in your appeal:

- a letter requesting an appeal that explains what you are appealing with any supporting arguments or reasons you think may be worthy of consideration;
- a copy of your initial request;
- a copy of the letter of denial.

There are two ways to file an appeal—through FOIAonline or by mail.

1. Through FOIAonline. This will work only if you set up an account on FOIAonline before you make the request that you would like to appeal. To set up an account, go to FOIAonline.gov, click “Create Account” (a link located within the blue banner at the top in the upper right corner), enter your data into the field that subsequently appears, and click “Save” (at the bottom left of the screen). With your account thereby created, you will be able to file an appeal on FOIAonline for any request you file on FOIAonline thereafter. To do so, locate your request (enter a keyword or the request tracking number in the "Search for" field on the "Search" tab), click on it, then the "Create Appeal" tab in the left-hand column. Complete the subsequent field, click "Save," and FOIAonline will submit your appeal.

2. By mail. Address your appeal to:

Department of the Navy
Office of the General Counsel
1000 Navy Pentagon, Room 5A532
Washington, DC 20350-1000

Whichever method is used to file your appeal, please also provide a copy to us at meredith.l.richards2.civ@us.navy.mil, or:

NAVFAC BRAC PMO West
33000 Nixie Way
Bldg 50 Suite 207
Attn: Meredith Richards
San Diego, CA 92147

You are strongly encouraged to submit a copy of your appeal to BRAC PMO via email to ensure we receive timely notification that you have filed an appeal in accordance with the instructions above.

Please direct any questions concerning this matter to Ms. Meredith Richards, who may be contacted at meredith.l.richards2.civ@us.navy.mil or (619) 524-1637. You may also contact the DON FOIA Public Liaison, Christopher Julka, at christopher.a.julka.civ@us.navy.mil, (703) 697-0031. In addition, the Office of Government Information Services (OGIS) provides a voluntary mediation process for resolving disputes between persons making FOIA requests and the Department of the Navy (DON).
